OBJECTIVE :

The objective of this e-conference is to bring interdisciplinary new ideas at one platform. The rapid growth of computing and applications has helped fertilise the Mathematical and Physical Sciences, yielding an unprecedented abundance of new methods and models. Hope this e-conference will encourage interdisciplinary approach to examine progress, exchange thoughts and philosophies among the researchers. It will also inspire to empower knowledge resulting in new research ideas and collaborations.

HIGHLIGHTS :

- Specific sessions will be held for Physics, Chemistry and Mathematics.
- Interested individuals are invited to participate and present research paper. Kindly register yourself through the link provided.
- Last date for submission of paper : May 21, 2020, 3:00 P.M.
- Selected research papers will be presented (oral/poster).
- Selected full length papers will be published after review in form of an edited book with ISBN number.
- After Conference, E-Certificate will be sent to all the participants.
- A time slot of maximum 10 minutes will be provided to present the paper.
